

Men's Weekly Golf Report –

Saturday - 30th Sept.

NO HICCUPS FOR HOCKING

It was AFL grand final day last Saturday and just the 68 players competed in the BRIDGE BUILDING SUPPLIES Stableford comp. Daniel Hocking was triumphant with an extraordinary round of 45 points which gave no-one else a chance! This enigmatic "C" grader occasionally produces a ripping round and with conditions ideal for golf he took full advantage with a great 20 point front nine before really cutting loose with 25 points on the back nine if you don't mind.

Great golf in anyone's language.

Super-Sid is back from holidays and after a couple of midweek rounds he flexed his muscles to space the others in the "A" grade with 41 points. Any thoughts Sid had of reaching the "B" grade are now well and truly shot. Graeme Southern was next best with 35 and he continues to comfortably hold his single figure handicap status.

Mark Sappenberghs is close to reaching "A" grade ranks and he took a step closer with his 37 point round to win the "B" grade from Rob Walters who shot a solid 36.

Over in "C" grade Dean Wright was sick of losing his money to his boisterous playing mates so he reeled off a lazy 40 points to temporarily shut them up. One of the club's oldest golfers Des Behlau showed he was far from a spent force with a dazzling 38 points to finish runner up.

Voucher winners were led in by Neville Briggs with 38 points and he was followed by Tubby 36, Kevin Hosgood 35, Tom Haig 35, Squashy 35, Fred Carter 35, Kevin Shepley 34, Alois Kniebeiss 34 and Neil Paech 34. There is a bit of golfing experience amongst that group of players!

The Pro comp was easily won by Dan Hocking for his 25 points on the back nine.

Time for a Stroke round this Saturday.
