SHAUN WILLIAMS TOO GOOD

It was MURRAY HEATING AND COOLING Stableford comp day on Easter Saturday and Shaun Williams was certainly no bunny when he won the day with his super 41 point round. Not having Dad 'Luke' present to sledge him out of it this week, Shaun played like a man possessed to win narrowly from three players who each scored 40 points.

One of these was Club Manager Stephen Cocks whose form fluctuations are massive. He was on song this time though as he waltzed in with the "B" grade first prize with class left hander Craig Hogben 3 strokes back in the runners up position with 37.

Noted racehorse owner Mario Grande triumphed in "A" grade where the scores were unusually moderate. 35 points was enough for him to win with the consistent Jared Thoman just a countback away from nailing him. Jared was somewhat consoled for this narrow defeat when it was revealed that he had eagled the 12th hole giving him about $150 worth of balls from the overflowing eagles nest.

Over in "C" grade there was a tie between Lawerance Crack and super duper veteran Ken Parbs who each shot 40 points. Lawerance's blistering 23 point back nine gave him control of any countback and it also won him the Pro comp for the day for the best Front or Back nine. There may be some discounted site fees on offer over at Avoca Dell caravan park while Lawerance remains on a high!

Others to do well on the day included Packy for his 37 points and Maury Wells, Quent Maurice and North Adelaide GC visitor John O'Connor who each tallied 36 points. Big Wally Heyer, Tom Haig and "Pommy" Bob McCormick (not Aussie anymore after not being happy with the cheating Aussie cricketers) each shot 35 points while Troy Penhall, Dave Lewis and "Spray" Lubcke got in on the act with 34 points apiece.

The club will have one less member from now on after colourful personality Uby Te Aho announced he was playing his last round before moving with his family to live in Cranbourne in future. Best known for his flaming coloured hair which changed weekly as well as his penchant for playing loud music during his round, Uby will forever have his name etched on the hole in one boards in the clubhouse. His two albatrosses on the 15th hole within 3 months back a year and a half ago are memorable and will never be repeated. Good luck Uby.

Stroke round this week.
